Principal's Message

Welcome to week six at Seaham Public School. There have been a lot of exciting happenings this week. Today KL treated us to a wonderful assembly and we acknowledged the next group of students who received their PBL badge. Well done to these students and thank you Mrs Lawler and KL for a fantastic assembly.

Planning Days - This week teachers have been released from class to continue their collaboration and planning. Our focus this week was consistent teacher judgement with a focus on writing. Teachers discussed all student's writing, looking at strengths and needs and made judgements on where each student is placed in terms of their stage outcomes. This planning is vital, particularly at report time and improving consistency across the school.

Leader's Speeches - we are looking forward to our potential 2020 school leaders delivering their speeches next Monday. This is always an exciting time of year. Every year we are blown away by the quality of the speeches and the quality of the young people who deliver them. Good luck to all year five students who have bravely put their name up and nominated to be a leader in 2020.

Bushfire and Air Quality - Unfortunately the threat of bushfire is still very real at the moment until we get some significant rain. Poor air quality is an issue at the moment. We keep students inside when air quality is really poor and monitor students with asthma even more closely. Some of the symptoms to look out for is if smoke particles are affecting our breathing system are itchy or burning eyes, runny nose, throat irritation, shortness of breath, headaches and coughing.

Mathematics Survey - Currently maths is taught in year, not class groups. We value your opinion. Please visit our Skoolbag app to access a short survey about mathematics at Seaham.
